Cherokee Lane Elementary School Community School plans to strengthen and expand its after-school programs to support students in a variety of areas, including academics, the arts, music, and social-emotional and behavioral development. The school also aims to explore creative ways to combine funding sources to increase access to field trips and academic enrichment experiences. Additionally, Community School funds will be used to purchase materials to enhance programming and provide student incentives.

Shared Power, and Voice

Cherokee Lane Elementary School Community School is committed to elevating the voices of students, families, and community members by actively identifying and engaging those who are interested in leadership opportunities. The goal is to create inclusive spaces where all stakeholders can contribute meaningfully to decisions that impact student success. By removing barriers to participation, the school aims to ensure that community input plays a central role in shaping programs, policies, and practices that support student achievement.

Integrated Systems
of Support

Cherokee Lane Elementary School Community School will work to strategically leverage community school funds to explore the creation of additional student support roles and build strong partnerships with outside agencies. A key focus this year will be on increasing external engagement, allowing the Community School Coordinator to connect with more local organizations and identify new resources. Through these expanded partnerships, the school aims to enhance access to mental and behavioral health services, educational opportunities, and community-based supports for students and families.

Culture of Belonging,
Safety, and Care

Leveraging community school funds, Cherokee Lane Elementary School will continue to build on its already welcoming and engaging environment by offering additional professional development opportunities that support a positive school climate and culture.
